FANNON GETS FIRST HONORS

Harry Howard Second In Regatta By O. D. Boat Club.

THIRTEEN EVENTS

Reginald Dyson Victor In Single Gig—All Go for Duck Which Was a Short Chase.

Before a large crowd of spectators the boys of the Old Dominion Boat Club staged a most successful regatta Saturday afternoon. Chester Fannon, the well known canoe expert, won for himself the individual honors of the day, winning four of the events, single handed and being in the winning crews of the six other events. Harry Howard came out with second honors.

The event about which most interest was centered was the single gig. Reginald Dyson won this event easily thus gaining the title of champion of the club. The Duck chase was another event of great interest. The duck did not have much of a chance with "Ches" Fannon and "Jake" Preston after him. Fannon caught him just in time to keep Preston from having a nice duck dinner Sunday.

The races were started by Messrs. Carver and Mueller.

Captain Douglas and F. M. Hamilton were the judges.

The results follow:

DREADNAUGHTS VICTORS

The Dreadnaughts had no trouble in defeating the Southland A. C. Saturday by the score of 10 to 5. They hammered the offerings of Litkus and Johnson to all corners of the lot. Ludlow parked one under Mr. Baggett's apple tree for the circuit in the third inning. Some clout was the verdict of all who saw it. Hart pitched a good game for the D's, allowing but four scattered hits and was never in danger. The big game due for yesterday was all in favor of Old Man Rain, much to the disappointment of the fans who were all set to see them go. If possible to play this game the coming Sunday, it will be announced in this column as soon as possible.

STATE NEWS

Lynchburg.—Local veterans who were with the Twenty-ninth division in France during the war, and there are more than 100 of them here, are making an effort to have a large attendance from here at the reunion of the division to be held in Baltimore August 31 to September 5.

Christiansburg.—Colonel James T. Montague, county agent for Montgomery, recently formed a cooperative club and shipped several thousand pounds of wool to be manufactured into blankets, which is said to be much more advantageous than to accept the present low price for wool.

Wytheville.—Senator E. Lee Trinkle, Democratic nominee for governor of Virginia, forwarded his resignation as state senator from the Fifth senatorial district to Governor Westmoreland Davis today. This district comprises the counties of Wythe, Pulaski, Bland and Giles.

Newport News.—W. J. Harahan, president of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company, pledged the city his support in the development of Hampton Roads at the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce Friday night in the American Legion lub. Winchester.—E. M. Herndon, of Atlanta, Ga., a construction foreman of the Western Union Telegraph Company, is in a serious condition in Memorial Hospital here with a large bone in his left leg shattered by a pistol bullet, and an employee named Owen, also of Atlanta, is in jail at Front Royal, Warren County, charged with shooting Herndon with intent to kill.

Danville.—The name of Colonel Decatur J. Holcombe was today added to the list of possible candidates for the vacancy in Congress from the Fifth district. His friends have started a boom for him much in the same way that others have been launched. No direct statement has been received from him. Colonel Holcombe is one of the original Davis men in Danville.

Lynchburg. — After successfully holding a county fair several years without racing the Appomattox County Fair Association is completing a regulation half mile track on its grounds and stables have been erected for race horses. Goolrick, and two sisters, Miss Bruce Goolrick and Mrs. William Lacy.

Roanoke.—Judge H. C. McDowell adjourned court here this afternoon until Monday morning after the opening arguments had been made in the case of Fred S. Gentry made the opening statement for the government.

Richmond.—Millions of dollars loss has been suffered by the farmers of Virginia, and crop conditions are alarming, due to the drought, declared J. J. Owen, assistant State commissioner of agriculture, today. Mr. Owen said it was time for the people to realize the food shortage that will result. In many sections of the state, he said, desolation has swept the land. The blue grass region of the southwest alone has escaped the drought.

Portsmouth.—Two negroes, detected Thursday night in an attempt to rob Seaboard Air Line railway pier No. 7 here, are believed to have been drowned when they leaped into the Elizabeth river to escape special policemen. One of the fugitives, the police are certain, perished, while no trace of the other can be found. One carton of cigarettes was the extent of the loot secured by the thieves before they were discovered.

CANOE LEAP FATAL---JACK M. GOMMIN DROWNS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 15.—Standing up in his canoe about a mile below the Chain Bridge yesterday, Jack M. Gommin, 20 years old, law student at the Georgetown University, jumped into the river, which at that point is about ten feet deep, and was drowned. An hour later Policeman C. M. Birkright and William Reynolds, a boat house keeper, recovered the body and took it ashore The water was pumped from Gommin's lungs, but he failed to respond to treatment.

Gommin was an employe of the internal revenue bureau, and lived at 1872 California street northwest. His home is at 491 Oak street, New Haven, Conn. The police say he was suffering from heart trouble, and it is believed that he may have had an attack as the result of the shock of hitting the water. His body was taken to the morgue. Gommin has a camp on the Potomac on the Virginia side of the river, and he was spending the day there.

RAIL RULES SOON READY

Employes Will Hear the First of New Rule In a Few Days.

STRIKE IMPROBABLE

Sixteen Principles Asked—All Are To Ballot On What Action Is To Be Taken.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—The Railroad Labor Board will announce within a few days the first of the new working rules to govern more than 2,000,000 rail workers, it was announced today.

Announcement of these rules will bring to a focus the entire railroad labor struggle. The rules will determine what action the "big four" brotherhoods, the American Federation of Labor railroad department unions and all the independent organiaztions are to take within the next thirty days on acceptance of wage cuts and new agreements with the individual carriers.

While reports of a general tie-up have been emphatically denied by both executives and union leaders, it is generally admitted that the next few weeks will show whether there is to be complete agreement between roads and employes or a widespread traffic interruption.

The board has before it the question of whether employes shall be paid time and a half time overtime after eight hours. The men had this overtime arrangement before the railroad administration and declare it has no part in the abolition of Federal control measures. Under a temporary ruling they are now receiving hourly pay for overtime.

The board is also considering whether to grant the men the sixteen universal principles they demand as fundamental rules on all railroads. The ultra-conservative railroad executives are bitterly opposed to these sixteen principles, which include the eight hour day, hours of working, and health and protection clauses. It also must decide whether the railroads are to be granted their request that all work done by 600,000 employees in work basis, instead of an hourly basis as at present.

The "big four" brotherhoods have put off voting on acceptance of pay cuts until September 1, waiting for decisions on these questions and evidence that the railroads will not ask further wage reductions. The A. F. of L., unions, with a strike vote already in their pockets, are also awaiting the decisions. The Brotherhood of Railway Clerks is this week sending out strike ballots to the 200,000 members from headquarters at Cincinnati.

When the board announces its overtime ruling, piecework decision, and the new universal working code every union railroad employe will have voted on what action the union leaders are to take in case the decisions are considered unjust.

The board indicates that it will not indefintely continue the national working agreements abrogated last sprig but put in force again pending the new rules announcements. It has denied all applications for further hearings on separate disputes involving working rules.

DECLARES BURCH CARRIED SHOTGUN CASE ON TRIP

Chicago, Aug. 1.—When Arthur C. Burch, under indictment in Los Angeles for the murder of J. Belton Kennedy, left Evanston on the morning of July 21, presumably to catch a train for Los Angeles, among his baggage was a shotgun carrying case, it was revealed here today by M. M. Bartlett, a former justice of the peace of Evanston.

Bartlett sat behind Burch on the train that brought him from Evanston to Chicago, and took particular note, he says, of Burch's baggage. Bartlett also said he unintentionally overheard a conversation between Burch and a young man who was his companion.

"I know Burch by sight only," Bartlett said, "but I know him well. In the summer of 1920 I saw him on the streets in Evanston night after night with Mrs. Obenchain. They used to parade through Main street all the time.

SOVIET TO GIVE U.S. KITCHENS

Agree To Furnish All Means Necessary To Expedite Relief.

AGAINST SEIZURE

Bolshevik Fear Enemies—Desire To Limit Personnel of American Relief Expedition.

Riga, Aug. 15.—In their negotiations with Walter Lyman Brown, head of the American Relief Administration in Europe, the agents of the Soviets have agreed to provide kitchens to cook the food to be sent to the relief of the Russian famine—though they confess to a shortage which may have to be supplied. The Soviets also agreed to provide buildings, fuel, residences and the cost of local administraiton, priority for free relief telegrams, gasoline and oil for motor transport, frontier rights, including no search, free imports and exports, and immunity of supplies from requisition.

The interesting point is that the Soviets place large stress, as they fear certain anti-Bolshevik elements will try to use the food distribution for counter revolutionary purposes.

MINISTER WANTS MEN TO WEAR DARK GLASSES

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 15.—Smoked glasses for men were suggested by the Rev. Herbert Whitlock, pastor of the People's Baptist Tabernacle in a sermon. He said they should be restrained from staring at the women who resort to paint, powder and bare knees to attract attention. He declared that women so garbed are only creating a false impression, and points to women who dress simply and less attractively as being more intelligent.

The Rev. Mr. Whitlock says Manchester streets are getting worse than Broadway. "It is now time," he said, "to save men who stand on the street corners and stare at short skirts and rolled down stockings. These men should be equipped with heavy smoked glasses."

Held for Grand Jury.

Man Who Offered Alleged Forged Check Given Hearing.

A man registered on the police blotter as Walter Evans was held for the action of the grand jury in the police court this morning because it was alleged that he endeavored to cash a check for $15 yesterday at Gibson's Drug Store, King and Alfred streets. The check was signed "Robert Elliott," Robert Elliott of Braddock appeared in court and stated that it was not his signature. Howard L. Arnold, an attache of the store, declared that some time ago he cashed a check for the accused man for $12 and the signature he declared was a forgery. The check introduced as evidence was made payable to "John Javins" and was drawn on the First National Bank. The prisoner told the court he did not write the check, adding that it was given him by another man to cash.

Bernhardt Fights Death.

Paris, Aug. 15.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt has caused reports of her serious illness to be denied, both at her home and at her theater in Paris, but those familiar with her believe the great tragedienne is moved by a determination not to die in the way ordinary mortals do at her advanced age of 81.

In fact, she has not been well for some time, but nevertheless has continued her preparations to appear this fall in the new play, "Glory." Her son and granddaughter and the author, Louis Verneuil, are with her at her summer home at Belle Isle on the south Brittany coast.

IRISH PEACE DEADLOCKED

Door of Hope, However, Is Still Open and London Optimistic.

ENGLAND'S TERMS

Autonomy In Finance and Taxation And Own Forces is Offered—Six Proposals.

London, Aug. 15.—Publication of the correspondence between Eamonn de Valera and Premier Lloyd George, following the issue of the Smuts letter to the press, has undoubtedly precipitated a serious situation in Anglo-Irish relations.

Both publications were the initiative of Premier Lloyd George, who in the case of the Smuts letter never infromed Mr. de Valera that he was about to disclose it, although it was addressed to Mr. de Valera.

Yesterday afternoon, when Commandant Barton and Mr. O'Brien were invited to see the Premier on Downing street, he was accompanied by the Chamberlain. His manner, though extremely grave, as befitted the circumstances, was not in any way hectoring or uncongenial. He then handed his reply to De Valera's letter to Commandant Barton, saying at the same time that the Cabinet had decided to publish his correspondence with De Valera Monday.

He also intimated that he intends to make a brief statement on the subject of the negotiations in the House of Commons Monday afternoon, but that debate on the proposal would be postponed probably until Tuesday.

Sinn Fein envoys were naturally surprised by his decision to divulge at once, in view of his recent strong objections to that course. As the Dail Eireaun meets for the first time in full session Tuesday, the proposals may be bedated simultaneously in London and in Dublin. Strong differences of opinion are certain in both places and it is felt the moment has come which will put the capacity of Sinn Fein leaders in political strategy to an acid test.

At Westminster it is said the Sinn Fein case must go by default, for Premier Lloyd George's offer of a dominion status to Ireland places him in line not only with Asquith but also possibly with the small Nationalist party, if its members elect to speak.

The debate will give a line on the strength of the die-hard faction in both Commons and Lords, because continguity to England and with a party in both houses of the British Parliament sympathetic to Ulster and constantly on the qui vive for grounds for interfering with Irish affairs in a hostile sense would be quite a different thing.

Except as regards taxation, all British dominions are subject to legislation of the British Parliament in all cases where the dominion is specially mentioned. In practice the British Parliament never includes a dominion in its legislation except by agreement.

The first says that the common concern of both countries in the defense of their interests on land and sea shall be recognized.

"Great Britain" it adds, "lives by the sea; her food and her communications depend on the freedom of th great sea routes. Ireland lies at Britain's side, across the seaways, north and south, that link her with the sister nations of the empire. the markets of the world and the vital sources of her food sup

"In recognition of this fact, which nature has imposed and which no statesmanship can change, it is essential that the Royal Navy alone should control the seas around Ireland throughout the seas around Ireland and Great Britain, and that such rights and liberties should be accorded it by the Irish state as are essential for naval purposes in Irish harbors and on Irish coasts."

The second stipulation says:

"In order that the movement toward limitation of armaments, which is now making progress in the world should not be hampered in any way the Irish territorial force shall, within reasonable limits, conform to the

TAX BILLS READY MUST BE PAID BY SEPT. 1, IN ORDER TO SAVE DISCOUNT

The city tax bills are now ready for payment. Announcement to this effect was made today by Collector of Taxes P. F. Gorman. Persons who pay their taxes between now and September 1 will obtain a discount of 5 per cent. for prompt payment. Those who fail to pay by September 1 will not receive any discount. Collector Gorman also announces that those desiring to pay their school tax at this time may do so and thereby avoid the rush usually incident to the time permits are about to be issued for the reopening of the public schools.

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

Washington, Aug. 15.—If President Harding chooses a Democrat out of the United States Senate to serve as a member of the American delegation to the disarmament and Far Eastern conference scheduled to take place in Washington beginning November 11, his selection will probably be Senator Oscar Underwood, of Ala., the Democratic floor leader in the Senate. The President and Senator Underwood are warm, personal friends, the attachment for each other having been formed when the Chief Executive was a member of that body. President Harding regards the Alabama Senator as one of the ablest members of the upper branch of the national legislature and it is felt if a Democrat is placed on this important conference, Senator Underwood will be the man chosen for the place.

There is still talk that the President will also select a woman for membership on the American conference delegation and while nothing definite concerning the President's intentions can be learned at the White House, it is known that great pressure is being brought to bear upon the Executive to recognize the female contingent in this manner.

Jobholders Uneasy

Democratic office-holders throughout the country, especially U. S. Attorneys and Marshals, are somewhat restless these days over the announced policy of Attorney General Daugnerty that he does not propose that they shall serve out their four year terms if they were appointed just before the advent of the Republican administration. In a number of states, these officials were placed in office just before the fourth of last March and under the general rule should serve four years from the date of their appointment. But Mr. Dougherty has ruled otherwise and says that he intends to replace such Democratic officials with Republican appointees just as soon as the proper candidates can be found.

Kitchen Refuses to Attend

Democrats on Capitol Hill were greatly interested in the story from Scotland Neck, N. C., that Representative Claude Kitchen of that state and minority leader in the House had refused an invitation to attend the Southern Tariff Congress meeting at Greensboro today because he was "thoroughly convinced that it was organized and is being sustained for the purpose of aiding in Republicanizing the South."

Mr. Kitchen is further quoted from his home as saying that the "prime movers and controllers vote the Republican ticket and contribute to Republican campaigns."

A great deal has been said about building up the Republican organizations in the Southern States and only recently a committee of twenty was appointed by the Republican National Committee to find out what can be done in the way of making inroads in the South. But this same sort of talk and planning has been going on for many years but it never gets any farther than the planning stage. Democracy is intrenched in the South more solidly at this time than it ever was, despite the temporary shift in some of the states at the last Presidential election.

Busy Week in Congress

This promises to be a busy week in Congress. On the House side the Ways and Means Committee has finished its work on the tax revision plan and will be ready to bring the measure into the House for discussion and passage. It is hoped that within a week or ten days the tax bill will be out of the way and ready for the attention of the Senate Finance Committee.

Owing to the fact that the Senate Committee has been holding hearings on tariff schedules, it is generally understood that the tax revision measure will first receive the attention of the Senate. Whether it can be passed by that body before the contemplated adjournment about August 25 is problematical. There is going to be a determined fight to have Congress remain in session until after the railroad legislation asked for by the President is passed. This measure authorizes the War Finance Corporation to loan the carriers $500,000,000 with which to tide them over their present financial stringency.

Weeks Hard to Handle

Secretary of War Weeks is said to be one of the hardest men to "handle" in the entire administration. When the Secretary makes up his mind about the settlement of any question no matter how many protests may be lodged by Senators or Representatives with the head of the War Department he seldom if ever changes his mind once he makes it up. He believes in the old Republican doctrine advanced by the late Mark Hanna of "standing pat."

TODAY'S THOUGHT That blessed mood, in which the burden of the mystery, in which the heavy and the weary weight of all this unintelligble world, is lightened.
Wordsworth.

A HUGE SUCCESS

In our editorial columns of June 25th last we called attention to the recent excursion of some 200 of Washington's leading business men on what they call their annual "Boosters' Trip." We suggested that Alexandria might go and do likewise with as much or even more justification. Shortly afterwards the Alexandria Advertising Club took up the idea, held a meeting, planned a campaign, and Friday was the gratifying and successful result. Some sixty of our enterprising merchants, utilizing twenty automobiles and Alexandria's Own Brass Band, visited the neighboring towns and countryside, and met with cordial and neighborly welcome everywhere. The specific object of the trip was to advertise one of Alexandria's famous Dollar Days, taking place on Wednesday, the 17th inst.

At the dinner at Fairfax Tavern, a hostelry noted for its chicken-dinners and other old-time viands, the Alexandrians met and mingled with a large number of their fellow-citizens of Fairfax county. The occasion seemed to be one of mutual good feeling and fellowship, and the brisk and hearty interchange of ideas led to a proposition on the part of the Fairfax men that will shortly be utilized to the great advantage of both Fairfax county and Alexandria. When the plans are ripe for exploiting the Gazette will take pleasure in giving them publicity.

We congratulate the merchants on the unquestioned success of their first "Boosters' Trip," which will doubtless become a fixed institution from now on. We likewise accord to the Advertising Club of Alexandria and the Retail Merchants' Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, their due share of praise for effective and energetic work.

If the Dollar Day of this Wednesday is not the biggest event of the kind ever pulled off in this city, the Gazette will miss its guess by much more than half!

Plain Drunks, $3; Noisy Or Sleepy, $5 Under New Schedule.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Revised schedules of fines for various degrees of drunkenness, which take effect Monday, were announced today by Judge Charles F. McKinley of the Chicago avenue police court. The increase is designed to offset the rising cost of feeding prisoners.

Plain drunks will cost $3; noisy drunks, $5; drunks who go to sleep in public places, $5; drunk and wanting to fight, $10; drunk and fighting, $10 to $25.

Schedules to be announced soon will cover increased fines for misdemeanors, disorderly conduct and other offenses.

THE WHALE

(For the Gazette.)

One ton of whole blubber will yield 200 gallons of oil.

The whale is a true air-breathing, warm-blooded mammal that suckles its young.

One whale will yield about a half a ton of whalebone, the value of which is around $5,000.

The whale is spoken of as a sleepless, for it is supposed if it lost consciousness it would drown.

The largest animal of any species is the giant finback whale, which attains a length of nearly 100 feet.

The killer whales are the most dead ly animals of the sea. They eat anything that swims and even feed upon their own kind.

The orifice of the whale's ear is scarcely perceptible, yet it is said that a whale's hearing is so acute that a ship crossing its track half a mile distant will cause it to dive instantly.

LYNCHBURG HAS BOOSTERS' TRIP, TOO.

If a goodly number of the residents of Appomattox, Prince George, Charlotte and Campbell counties do not know that Dollar Day will be observed by Lynchburg merchants August 18 it is not the fault of the booster party which left, 40 strong yesterday morning at 8 o'clock, and which made a 165 mile swing through these counties the last car reaching home at 10 o'clock last night.

Nine automobiles covered with banners advertising Lynchburg and the special sale started on the tour, which included stops at Concord, Appomattox, where the boosters came in just before a circus and caught the interest of the crowd; Evergreen, Pamplins Prospect where a farmers picnic was in progress; Charlotte Court House Phoenix, Brookneal, Naruna, Gladys, Altavista, where supper was in order, and finally Rustburg.

Most of the automobiles were laden with advertising matter which was distributed among the populace of the towns visited and which was sown broadcast at road crossings. Large announcement signs were tacked up to draw trade to the city.

Promptly at 8 o'clock the automobiles, which had assembled in front of the Law building, started out, first making a short parade down Main and up Church streets, then turning down Ninth went out the river road toward Appomattox county. C. M. Guggenheimer, Jr., chairman of the booster committee, drove the pilot car with H. C. Christian, chairman of the Dollar Day campaign, and Captain D. C. Smith, chief of police, among his passengers.

At Concord, which was the first stop, the boosters got out talked a moment with those villagers who were about the stores and invited them to the sale, distributed posters, hand bills, novelties and blotters, and sped off. This procedure was followed at most of the towns except some of the smaller ones where only cards were posted.—Lynchburg News, Aug. 13.

Raids Fail To Get Liquors Hidden In Quaint Old Isle.

Oak Bluffs, Martha's Vineyard, Mass., Aug. 15.—The first prohibition enforcement agents who ever came to Martha's Vineyard took aboat away from the island this afternoon, after a twenty-four hour sojourn, leaving behind them several thousand cases of whiskey, gin and champagne brought ashore from the booze ship Arethusa.

Despairing of preventing the Arethusa from selling out beyond the three mile limit, the prohibition forces attempted to clean up the island when nearly all of the schooner's cargo was landed, but the task proved too great, and though several raids were made, only one was successful.

It netted twenty-four quarts of Scotch in a private house. The agents threw a tremendous scare into the island, which on Friday was probably the wettest place in the country. They would have made some large hauls had the prospective victims not been tipped off and found opportunity to move their stocks to the many inaccessiole caches contained within the 225 mile area of Martha's Vineyard.

All parts of the island, including Oak Bluffs, Edgartown, Vineyard Haven, Menemsha and Tisbury were visited.

But Sunday night it was once more possible to buy the best Scotch, Irish and rye whiskey at $5 a quart.

The agents are expected to return tomorrow, however, with reinforcements.

The Arethusa disappeared from off No Man's Land some time Friday night, and those who claim to know say that she is lying some four miles off and planning to return for business in another day or two.

Expects Huge Sum In Overdue Taxes.

The government expects to bring into the Treasury this year about $500,000,000 in delinquent taxes, as a result of a decision to speed up tax collections.

Revenue Commissioner Blair and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon have determined upon a more extensive canvass of delinquents, who owe taxes running back over the last three years.

Back taxes for the years 1917, 1918 and 1919 now are coming into the Treasury at the rate of about $30,000,000 a month. The plan to hurry up the collections is expected immediately to increase this sum.

Speedier action is to be taken by the income tax unit of the Treasury in thousands of pending cases, involving tax payments withheld from the government on the advice of counsel

Under the revenue bureaus' new program there will be a more expeditious handling of these cases, by a closer coordination of the administrative work in Washington.

Better business methods also will be injected into many of the collec districts.

Secretary Mellon is expected again to urge upon Congress favorable action upon pending legislation providing for the creation of ten additional revenue districts.

Secretary Mellon and his assistants in the Treasury are convinced that the government would find enlargement of the revenue force an economy move and produce larger revenues.

Provincetown, Mass., Aug.— 15. Drifting helpless in an open dory, Frank Purdy, of Boston, a fisherman, was rescued off here today by the Race Point life-saving crew. He had been adrift since Thursday and was nearly starved and exhausted from his long exposure.

He declared he was a member of the crew of the Boston fishing schooner Athena.

Purdy said he lost his bearings in a heavy fog Thursday and missed the schooner. He rowed until he became exhausted and then let the boat drift.

"POLKA-DOT" ORIGIN IS EXPLAINED FOR LORD NORTHCLIFFE'S BENEFIT

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Boy, page Lord Northcliffe.

That titled wager of word battles with kings wants to know what a "polka dot" is, and Chicago, always eager to please, can give him the 'low down" on it.

The eminent British publisher, it will be recalled, was described by an Eastern scribe recently as wearing a "red silk polka-dot tie," which called forth this comment from his lord ship:

"Polka-dot. What do you mean by polka-dot? Never heard of such a thing. The dot I understand—but why the polka?"

Reading of this disturbed state of the titled mind a Chicago reporter unearthed this explanation for him:

"Polka dot. In 1835 Neruda, a Bohemian dancing instructor, was traveling in Poland and obesrved a peasant girl dancing a new step. He learned it and brought it back to Paris. The feminine of 'Polak' is 'Poloka' and he shortened it, calling the dance the polka dance. The dance spread to America and the fact that James Polk was the new President then added to the popularity of the step. Merchants, quick to trade on the coincidence of the name, immediately named the new fabric which came out that season the 'polka dot', because dotted materials of every kind were in vogue."

How's that, m'lord?

In the third stipulation it is declared that Great Britain shall have all the necessary facilities for the development of air defense and communications.

The fourth expresses the hope that Ireland will, of her own free will, contribute in proportion to her wealth to the naval and military forces of the empire, and assumes that voluntary recruiting will be permitted, "particularly for those famous Irish regiments which so long and so gallantly have served His Majesty in all parts of the world."

Complete autonomy in finance and taxation, with the agreement that there shall be no tariffs and other trade restrictions between the two islands, is provided in the fifth stipulation.

The sixth declares that Ireland is to assume responsibility for a share of the United Kingdom's present debt and pensions. In default of an agreement the share would be determined by an arbitrator appointed from within the Dominion.

The document proposes that the condition of settlement be embodied in the form of a treaty, to which effect shall be given by the British and Irish Parliaments.

After the little party had gone off in the darkness in an automobile and were sampling the "white lightning," a hand reached out from inky space as it were, snatched the jug and vanished.

You follow it simply—surely—swiftly—and you have saved 50c to $10 in materials on every frock you make.

Then, according to the Deltor you put your garment together. Your needle follows its simple pictures as it flies in and out; with never a second of hesitation, you attain the perfect fit and drape that you thought could only be the work of a professional modiste of Fifth Avenue or Paris.

And last, the Deltor's finishing touches accomplish a wonderful thing for you. How often have you hoped to make a "creation" instead of just a dress? With Deltor you do just that. It reveals those intimate little touches of finish and adornment of a Parisian modiste—that make your frock stand out in any gathering.

Insurance of the Right Kind is—

Money Invested---Not Money Spent

Hundreds of persons, right here in Alexandria have proved the truth of this statement in the past few years. They were, perhaps skeptical at first. They looked on insurance as MONEY SPENT and only consented to the writing of a policy after a long argument.

But these same people, or at least, more than fifty per cent. of them, have come to the realization that their insurance policies are the best kinds of investments and that they are surer of immediate returns in case of any kind of trouble than if their money has been put in any kinds of stocks or bonds.

A few dollars invested today in the right kind of insurance mean protection for your home and household goods, your automobile—and our policies provide against the theft or burning of your car—liability incurred should you accidentally strike a pedestrian—liability incurred in a smash-up with another car—in fact they are an absolute guarantee against any kind of trouble while you are driving.

Don't you think that your best plan is to assure yourself of protection today? If so, call to see us and we will promise to take very little of your time and for a few dollars put you in a position of positive safety.

DOMESTIC NEWS

Washington City, Aug. 12. 1813.

EXTRACT FROM LETTER TO THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY, FROM CAPTAIN PERRY, DATED U. S. SCHOONER "LAWRENCE," AUGUST 4, 1813.

"I have great pleasure in informing you that I have succeeded in getting over the Bar the United States vessels, the Lawrence, Niagara, Caledoria, Ariel, Scorpion, Somers, Tigress, and Porcupine. The enemy have been in sight all day and are now about a league from us. We shall sail in pursuit of them at 3 tomorrow morning.

NOTE—Captain Perry, afterwards Commodore Perry, is the famous naval officer who defeated the British fleet in Lake Erie, transferring his flag from his own burning and sinking vessel to a captured enemy ship, and who announced his victory in the laconic message, "We have met the enemy and they are ours."

MINES HEROISM

The unsung, unheralded hero, who performs his deeds of valor thousands of miles from the bullet-swept battle field in dark underground crannies reeking with the deadly gases that attend mine explosions and fires, is to be accorded well merited recognition at the International First-Aid and Mine Rescue Meet to be held in St. Louis on September 1, 2 and 3. Gold medals and diplomas of valor for saving, or dying in the attempt to save, the lives of their fellow miners, will be awarded to twelve heroes of mine disasters, or their nearest surviving relatives, by H. Foster Bain, Director of the United States Bureau of Mines, on behalf of the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association, of which he is President. The International First-Aid and Mine Rescue Meet, the fourth of these events, will be held under the auspices of the Bureau of Mines, in co-operation with the American Red Cross, the National Safety Council, and various miners and operators organizations and associations.

Medals will be awarded to six Butte Montana, miners for their efforts to save the life of a surveyor who was overcome by gases from a mine fire at the Leonard mine of the Anaconda Copper Mining Company. These men are K. P. Krueger, Lew E. Ryan, Frank Pierce, Herbert Farlin, George Reichert and John Gregovich. Medals will be presented to the nearest relatives of Francis Henry Murphy and William Ferrington, of Franklin, Kansas, who lost their lives in the No. 19 mine of the Jackson-Walker Coal and Mining Company in an effort to rescue two shot-firers who were imprisoned following an explosion in the mine and who were later found dead.

Alex Ogilvie and Thomas Gold, of Lehigh, Okla., will each receive a medal for extricating at great risk a worker who accidentally came in contact with an electrically-charged wire, receiving a shock which rendered him unconscious. After extricating the unconscious miner, Ogilvie and Gold immdiately applied first aid methods, giving him artificial respiration, which, in thirty to forty-five minutes, resulted in his being revived.

Medals will be presented to the nearest relatives of Pasco Robinson and Clarence Williams, of Degnan, Oklahoma, who died in their attempt to warn miners in the No. 19 mine of the M. K. and T. Coal Company, of impending explosion from an accumulation of gas within the mine. Before Robinson and Williams reached the mine to give them warning, the gas accumulated and the explosion occurred, resulting in the loss of ten lives, including their own.

The Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association was founded in 1916 to honor the memory and continue the work of Joe. A. Holmes, the first director of the Bureau of Mines and the popularizer of the slogan, "Safety First."

The association is completing its plans for the formation of local safety organization. The proposed chapters, or chapters of the national parent organization, will be the means of bringing together the miners and mine officials as common workers in the great cause of making safer the operation of the 25,000 mines, quarries and smelters in which a million men go their daily toil.

The meeting of the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Association will constitute part of the program of the International First Aid and Mine Rescue meet in St. Louis. It is expected that 100 first-aid and mine-rescue teams from various mining districts of the United States, Canada and Mexico will complete for the different championships. The contests will be held in the Coliseum, where a special mine gallery has been constructed, in which the rescue contests will be carried on under conditions approximating as closely as possible those found in mines following a disastrous fire and explosion.

Conferences will also be held on the possible standardization of mine rescue breathing. The governments of Great Britain and Belgium have designated representatives to attend these conferences.

The prizes of the competition will be presented at a banquet on the closing evening of the meeting. Among the speakers at the banquet will be Governor A. M. Hyde of Missouri; John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America; J. G. Bradley, president of the National Coal Association; Representative Marion E. Rhodes, chairman of the House Mines and Minig Committee; and H. Foster Bain, director of the Bureau of Mines.

RICHMOND THEATRE

If Wallace Reid ever has appeared to better advantage in a photoplay than he does in "Always Audacious" at the Richmond Theatre today, his admirers have failed to observe it.

In this picture Mr. Reid plays two parts, one, a society man of wealth and the other a crook. Both men are alike as two peas and this resemblance aids the scheme of the crook to assume the station of the other—to rob him of his wealth and fiancee. He nearly succeeds in his purpose and but for a—but it would be unfair to readers to reveal in advance one of the most smashing climaxes ever seen in a motion picture story.

Of course, Mr. Reid plays the roles of the crook and his intended victim. How he does it, the skill of the cameraman reveals in many thrilling scenes.

The picture which is based on Ben Ames Williams' story, "Toujours de L'Audace" is distinctly worth while.

Has Doctor Locate Heart; Shoots Self.

Port Jervis, New York, Aug. 15.—"Doctor, I have always had a curiosity to know just where my heart is located," said Ethelbert Crawford a retired New York Merchant, who had called on Dr. Glatzmeyer for a simple ailment.

The physician drew a circle around the location of his heart.

While Dr. Glatzmeyer was writing a prescription, Crawford excused himself, went into an adjoining room and shot himself in the exact center of the circle the doctor had drawn, dying instantly.

NUMBER OF FARMS IN THE UNITED STATES, BY TENURE.

Of the total number of farms in the United States on January 1, 1920, as shown by the Fourteenth Census (6,448,366), 3,925.95 were operated by their owners, 68,525 by hired managers, and 2,454,746 by tenants. Of the total number of farms, 60.9 per cent were operated by their owners, 1.1 per cent by managers, and 38. 1 per cent by tenants In 1910, 62.1 per cent of the farms were operated by owners, 0.9 per cent by managers, and 37 per cent by tenants. The distribution in 1900 was, owners, 63.7 per cent; managers, 1.0 per cent; and tenants, 35.3 per cent; in 1890, owners and managers together, 71.6 per cent; and tenants, 28.4 per cent; in 1880, owners and managers, 74.4 per cent; and tenants, 25.6 per cent. It is evident, therefore, that there has been a gradual decrease in the proportion of farms operated by their owners and a corresponding increase in the proportion operated by tenants.

Farms Operated by Their Owners.

The number of farms operated by their owners in 1910 was 3,948,722. The 1920 figures given above thus show a decrease in this class of farms during the decade amounting ot 23,627, or 0.6 per cent.

In the census reports a distinction is made between farmers operating their own land only and farmers who hire some land in addition to that which they own. The former are classified as "full owners" and the latter as "part owners." The number of farms operated by full owners in 1920 was 3,366,546 and the number operated by part owners, 558,549. In 1910 3,354,897 farms were reported as operated by full owners and 593,825 by part owners. There was therefore an increase of 11,649, or 0.3 per cent in the number of farms operated by full owners, and a decrease of 35,276, or 5.9 per cent, in the number operated by part owners.

The states in which 80 per cent or more of the farms were operated by their owners in 1920 include Maine, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Nevada, Utah, Montana, Vermont, New Mexico, Wyoming, Wisconsin, Rhode Island, Idaho, West Virginia, Michigan, Arizona, Washington, and Oregon.

Farms Operated by Managers

The number of farms operated by hired managers in 1920 was 68,525, as against 58,104 in 1910, representing a increase of 10,421, or 17.9 per cent. The state reporting the largest number of farms operated by managers were, California ,with 4,949; Pennsylvania, with 4,490; New York, with 4,376; Illinois, with 3.410; and Ohio, with 3.065.

Tenant Farms

The number of farms operated by tenants in 1920 was 2,454,746, as compared with 2,354,676 in 1910. The increase in tenant farms during the decade was 100,070, or 4.2 per cent.

The proportion of farms operated by tenants is highest in the Southern states. States with the largest percentage of tenant farms in 1920 were a follows: Georgia, 66.6; Mississippi, 66.1; South Carolina, 64.5; Alabama 57.9; Louisiana, 57.1; Texas, 53.3; Arkansas, 51.3; and Oklahoma, 51.0

An American Doughboy in France

By ELLIOTT F. HOFFMAN

(Historian of Alexandria Post, No. 24, American Legion.)

(For the Alexandria Gazette.)

The Meuse-Argonne Offensive

Three days' hiking brought us to a shelltorn woods, seven or eight miles from the point where we were to enter the line to relieve the First Division, then attacking the enemy in the Kriemhilde line near Montfaucon.

Our entire division camped there. We had received several thousand replacements to make up for the losses sustained in the battle of St. Mihiel. Our own company had 259 men—9 more than war strength—and as we were drawing rations for but 250, that perhaps accounted for the "bean shortage." In fact, there was a shortage of almost everything in the food line, and what we did have was exceedingly poor. Some "Y" men met us at this place with cookies and chocolate to sell, but what was left of the pay we had received at St. Mihiel had gotten into the hands of a few capitalists by the "seven come eleven" route, hence only these plutocrats could avail themselves of the good things offered ,even though the prices were very low. After sensing the situation, most of us drifted disconsolately back to our pup tents and tried to divert our thoughts from the chocolate we might have had by the interesting pastime of "reading our shirts"—an army expression meaning looking the shirts over for cooties.

All day and all night we could hear the roar of the battle raging in the Argonne, and we could see scores of American and French bombing planes going over to engage in the deadly conflict. One incident stands out in recalling the sight of all these airplanes. An observation balloon was sent up in an effort to get information as to the outcome of the battle. It had been up but a short time when an enemy plane dropped out of the sky, as if by magic, and flying around the balloon for a few minutes fired explosive bullets into it, killing the observer and setting the balloon on fire.

On the morning of October 11 we received orders to be prepared to move up to the line at nightfall. We cleaned our equipment and made ready t ogo. After supper, and the important event of the distribution of the mail, all the units which go to make up a complete division—artillery, medical corps, kitchens, mess carts, wagons and all other component parts of a division—were drawn up, and with the approach of darkness we started out, not realizing that this was the last journey for hundreds of the boys of this, the Rainbow Division. It is a wise and merciful Providence which enables a soldier to live each moment as it comes without too long a glance into a possible future. There is no time for projecting the imagination beyond the veil of the present, when preparing to go into battle. On and on we tramped in the darkness, headed for one of the bitterest and deadliest battles in the annals of history.

A terrible realization of what was awaiting us came on that march to the front. It was about 2.30 a. m. We were trudging along a dark road in the midst of the noise of heavy artillery returning from the front, and hearing the groans of the wounded soldiers in the ambulances passing by, when suddenly a flash of light appeared close to us. It was a high explosive shell from the enemy's cannon. Knowing it would burst in a few seconds, down we fell on our faces, hoping to escape the flying shrapnel. But the Huns had hit their mark! Eighteen men of Company B, 168th Infantry, were killed outright and fifteen fell mortally wounded. Disorder reigned among the troops. Captains, lieutenants and sergeants ran up and down the road yelling madly to the men to stay in their places in the line. The groans of the injured were heart-rending and the whole scene was one of unspeakable horror; for arms, legs and heads of men lay scattered in pools of blood in the road. The passing ambulances, already loaded to capacity with wounded boys from the front, could not stop to take any of our wounded. Those who were only slightly wounded were taken away first by company stretcher bearers and the rest were gathered up before daybreak and taken to a temporary hospital which had been set up about a mile from the point of the calamity. Two Alexandrians who were with the Rainbow Division had narrow escapes at this time. The flying shrapnel tore the band from the helmet of one of them and a bullet pierced the top of the canteen of the other. They mercifully escaped without injury.

The next morning a detail of grave diggers returned to the spot and gathere together the remains of our fallen comrades, wrapped them in shelter tents and buried them in a fiel da few yards from the spot where they fell. Those brave boys of Iowa! They had left home amid the wild enthusiasm of their townspeople to take part in the great struggle, they had served a long, cold winter in the trenches of Lorraine and had braved the shot and shell of Chateau Thierry and St. Mihiel, and there on the way to the Argonne had given up their lives to the cause of freedom.

He Had Suffered Fourteen Years.

Covington Man Had To Give Up Farming On Account of Bad Health, He says.

"I had fourteen years of stomach trouble, and Tanlac was the only thing that ever reached my case, but it fixed me up so fine I don't believe there is a healthier man in Covington than I am today," said J. C. Worley, 342 Prospect St., Covington, Va., an employee of the Virginia Pulp and Paper Co.

"I haven't had a touch of indigestion for eighteen months and am just in the pink of condition. It seems almost unbelievable that a little medicine could do in a short time what Tanlac did for me. I was about down and out when I started taking it. I had to give up farming on account of poor health, and moved to Covington in the hope that change of climate and different sort of work would help me, but I got no relief.

"I don't believe a two-horse wagon could hold all the medicines I tried, but they had no more effect than water so far as helping me was concerned. For years I couldn't sleep on my left side because of palpitations and smothering spells that were sure to come on. I had attacks of indigestion that left me so weak I would have to stay in bed for a week at a time. Once I was laid up for six months.

"People I haven't seen since I got my health back don't know me at first. Why, my recovery was the talk of our neighborhood, but I don't believe it surprised anybody more than it did me. It just made a new man of me and I would go the limit for it."

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, Jr.

WASHINGTON LETTER,

fresh from the pen of one of the Capital's leading newspaper correspondents

A Daily Excerpt from the pages of the Alexandria Gazette, exactly 108 YEARS AGO on each day of re-publication.

The War of 1812 was going on. In today's columns, for instance, appears a message from the famous Commodore Perry, who, leaping from his burning and sinking vessel; onto a captured British ship, drove the enemy from the Lakes! .The same Perry, who, after the victory, sent the laconic message to the Government at Washington: "We have met the enemy and they are ours!"

Napoleon Bonaparte, after his disastrous retreat from Moscow, was fighing for his life and that of the French Empire. The star of his destiny was already on the wane, and the finger of Fate pointing to Elba.

The final contests with the North American Indians are soon to begin, and the Gazette's pages are filled with their heroic struggles against the white man.

Again, in today's columns will be found the notation of eleven ships loading at Alexandria for foreign ports and the Atlantic Coast.
